GANDHIJI DECLINED

"Dr. B. R. Ambedkar, Labour Member, Government of India, in reply to the addresses presented by the Depressed Classes Federation, and the Municipal Worker's Federation, Sholapur on January 16th, 1946, referred to the series of Gandhi-Jinnah Talks in Bombay, and said that some six months ago he had written a letter to Mahatma Gandhi, but Gandhiji declined to meet him, saying that there was nothing common in their angles of vision (A. P.)." [1]
